

Why a Sensory Gym?

Sensory Gyms are designed in mind for children of all abilities. They have unique play equipment that the child can spin, climb, slide, rock, swing and squeeze through. To a parent it might just look like playing but it does so much more for the child participating in the activities. This equipment can teach a child body awareness, balancing skills, cause and effect, fine motor, self soothing and social skills. Sensory experiences help develop a child's confidence and decision making skills because they have the ability to control how they interact and process information through the sensory experience. Sensory Towne has a unique Chill Spa that serves as a calming room. This room is used as a coping strategy to reduce internal and environmental triggers. This can deescalate a melt down and can potentially allow a child to return to play with their peers once they have calmed down instead of having to feel like they have to go home to avoid a meltdown.
